

BodyMind Dancing[©] with Martha Eddy

Fridays: 3:45pm – 5:20pm

$15 per class

BodyMind Dancing is an easygoing & pleasurable dance experience full of anatomical gems that strengthen body connections and support creativity. We use music from around the world, Eddy's dance phrases, and improvisation to explore the internal world, revealing it externally. Martha Eddy's system of dance training combines movement principles about the alive, healthy, and expressive body, drawing from Laban Movement Analysis – the concepts of renaissance thinker Rudolf Laban, Bartenieff Fundamentals – the dynamic alignment work of physical therapist/dance therapist, Irmgard Bartenieff, and Body-Mind Centering® – the experiential anatomy and developmental movement of occupational therapist Bonnie Bainbridge Cohen.

Friday's class is followed by Moving On Aerobics.org with a NIA twist from 5:30–6:30pm taught by Catherine Gross, NIA Instructor and Dynamic Embodiment trainee. (January 16th 6-7pm)
